The Harrison-Shaw PREACHING MISSION has been established in memory of W.S. Harrison, Sr. of Asheville and J. Paul Shaw of Raleigh, NC. The purpose of the mission is to bring the ministry of outstanding religious leaders of various denominations to the people of Asheville, Buncombe County and the surrounding area. While the mission is held at Trinity United Methodist Church, the services are interdenominational and are designed to offer inspiration, Christian nurture and Christian fellowship to all people. It is our prayer that by uniting in this spiritual experience the churches of our community will be drawn closer together.

"It's an exciting time for ministers, choirs and congregations to come and worship together."

Zan Holmes Jr. of Dallas, Texas, will be preaching during the services for the mission.

The recipient of numerous awards and the author of several religious works, Holmes is best known among United Methodists as the narrator of the Disciple bible study video, according to Peurifoy.

This is the eleventh year the Harrison-Shaw Mission has been held in Asheville, said Peurifoy. It is named for organizers W.S. Harrison Sr. of Asheville and J.P. Shaw of Raleigh.

"We alternate among the churches. Last year we had a Presbyterian speaker, and next year we are planning a Baptist presentation," Peurifoy explained.

"The church was so packed last year fold-up chairs were set in the aisles, and we are hoping for that good of a response or better this year also."

The overall theme of Holmes' presentations will be "Reaching for Renewal." Services will be held starting at 7:30 p.m. nightly. Choirs and ministers from the participating churches will alternate during the week.

The Preaching Mission is open to the public.

"I would like to invite anyone and everyone to come worship with the churches of west Asheville this week," Peurifoy said.

A BIG THANK YOU to Mickey Cooper and to Coy and Clara Mehaffey for all of the time and effort they have expended in contacting our church family in behalf of the new Church Directory! Every resident member of our church who could be reached has been contacted in order that appointments could be set up for photography. It is gratifying that even some of our homebound and nursing home residents will be brought to the church building for picture taking. THANK YOU to Lee Satterfield and Ammon Chaney for helping with transportation for those people.

Dear mother & Daddy,

Thank you both so much for a wonderful Preaching Mission! Dan and I enjoyed all of it - the planning, the anticipation, and the fourfold blessings of inspirational messages through song, prayer and sermon. Dr. Holmes certainly spoke to us and filled us with hope. We heard such positive comments about him and the Preaching Mission as a whole. The way the church and the community churches support it should be a testament of your hard work. We are very proud of your generosity and your desire to reach out to West Asheville, and all of Asheville for that matter, to unite denominations for the purpose of praising God and growing as Christians.

Thank you again for all your time, energy and gifts.

Our love,
Penny + Dan

Dear Mary Jo,

Thank you for the kind invitation to the Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission Luncheon. As usual, I thoroughly enjoyed the fine company, meal, and program. This event has become an annual highlight for me.

Also, please know of our sincere appreciation for making the Mission available to Givens Estates. Our residents enjoy this special occasion and the quality of the speakers.

Joy and blessings!

THIS IS MORE THAN JUST A THANK-YOU.

HUGS

It's wondrous what a hug can do
A hug can cheer you when you're blue
A hug can say "I love you so" or
"Gee, I hate to see you go."
A hug is "welcome back again" and
"Great to see you!" "Where've you been?"
A hug can soothe a small child's pain
And bring a rainbow after rain.
THE HUG! There's no doubt about it
We scarcely could survive without it.
A hug delights and warms and charms
It must be why "GOD" gave us arms.
Hugs are great for fathers and mothers.
Sweet for sisters, swell for brothers
And chances are your favorite aunts
Love them more than potted plants.
Kittens crave them: puppies love them
Heads of state are not above them.
A hug can break the language barrier
And make your travels so much merrier.
No need to fret about your store of 'em
The more you give, the more there's more of 'em.
So stretch those arms without delay
And give someone a hug today.

We are watching the dawning of a new world

Bob Terrell

A TOUCH OF TERRELL

Every day we Americans look around and ask ourselves, "What's happening to us? What's happening to the world? What's going on, anyway?"

Those may be the toughest questions of the 20th Century. Who can answer them?

Try Dr. H. Stephen Shoemaker of Fort Worth, Texas. He is pastor of the Broadway Baptist Church in Fort Worth, and not too long ago was pastor of Beverly Hills Baptist in Asheville. He calls himself a post-modern, ecumenical-evangelical, world baptist Christian.

He looks at events around the world and especially in the United States and says, "We are witnessing the end of the modern age and the dawning of a new one. We do not know what to call it yet except 'post-modern.' "

What in the world is that?

"The end of modernity," he said, "is perhaps most dramatically represented by the worldwide collapse of communism. But there are other signs as well: the decline of western economies, demise of the cities, destruction of the environment, the moral decay of the West.

"There was much good in the modern age," he said, "but now it has run out of gas. Modernity is now bankrupt."

Americans were delighted with the collapse of communism, the destruction of the Berlin Wall, and the reunification of Germany.

But people are still dying in the Middle East, in Bosnia, in Northern Ireland, on the streets of Miami and New York, and in many other places around the world. Most of them have little idea what they're dying for, but they're just as dead in the end.

"We are entering the post-mod ern age," Shoemaker said, "and

"Marx, Nietzsche and Freud we wrong in their prophecy that r gion would die in the modern a Religion can no longer be brack ed out of public conversation a decision making. We Christi must go public with our theol and our values, and let our voi be heard in the public square – from a position of privilege and fallibility, as in earlier times, as one crucial vote."

He has my attention.

I want to hear more.

challenge will be as great for our nation as for the nations of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union. Any new world order will be quite different from anything in the modern age: all peoples of the earth must be brought to the table."

The Israelis and Palestinians came to the table in Washington Monday, signing a peace agreement that for many years the entire world thought impossible. It holds great promise, but it is just a beginning – fragile at best.

Before our eyes, the world is changing. Most of us wonder what it's changing to. Shoemaker believes he knows.

He will address the subject during the Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission Sept. 26-29 at Trinity United Methodist Church in West Asheville, speaking specifically on world change on Tuesday, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p.m.

This will be the 12th year of the Harrison-Shaw mission, and may be the most powerful yet. The mission was established in memory of W.S. Harrison Sr. of Asheville and J. Paul Shaw of Raleigh with a purpose of bringing the ministry of outstanding religious leaders of various denominations to the people of Asheville, Buncombe County, and Western North Carolina.

Denomination has nothing to do with the mission; it is open to all.

"The post-modern age is witnessing the surprise re-emergence of religion as a powerful social and moral force," Shoemaker said, adding a further dimension.
